JANUARY, 1904

The Fifty-First Annual Meeting of the Congregational Church-Building Society.

The Fifty-first Annual Meeting of the Congregational Church-Building Society was held January 14th, 1904, at half past three o'clock in the afternoon, in the United Charities Building, 105 East Twenty-second Street, New York City.

Rev. William Hayes Ward, D.D., LL.D., was made chairman of the meeting and offered prayer.

The chairman appointed as a Nominating Committee Rev. James G. Roberts, D.D., Mr. John D. Cutter and Mr. George S. Hickok.

The minutes of the last Annual Meeting were read and approved.

Secretary Charles H. Richards then read the fifty-first annual report of the Board of Trustees of the Congregational Church-Building Society, which was accepted and ordered placed on file and printed in the CHURCH-BUILDING QUARTERLY.

The reports of the Field Secretaries, Rev. George A. Hood, Field Secretary for New England, Rev. Charles H. Taintor, Field Secretary for the Interior, and Mrs. C. H. Taintor, Assistant Field Secretary, and Rev. H. H. Wikoff, Field Secretary for the Pacific District, were then presented and ordered printed in the QUARTERLY.

The Treasurer's report for 1903 was read by Mr. Charles E. Hope, and accepted and ordered placed on file and printed in the QUARTERLY.

The Nominating Committee made its report, and the following officers and trustees were elected:

President.

DR. L. C. WARNER.

Vice-Presidents.

MR. AARON B. MEAD, Chicago, Ill.

MR. WILLIAM H. STRONG, Detroit, Mich.

MR. ELBRIDGE TORREY, Boston, Mass.

HON. D. C. BELL, Minneapolis, Minn.

MR. C. D. WOOD, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Recording Secretary.

CHARLES H. RICHARDS.

Trustees.

For three years—William H. Ward, D.D., LL.D., R. T. Hall, D.D., Mr. William H. Wanamaker, George Wilcox, Esq., Mr. John H. Allen.

For one year—To complete the unexpired term of Thomas K. Noble, D.D., W. W. Leete, D.D.

For two years—To complete the unexpired term of Rev. Charles H. Richards, Rev. Charles L. Goodrich.

The committee appointed at the last Annual Meeting to consider the change of basis of representation and the time and place of holding the annual meeting, reported that it had carefully considered the question, and in view of experiments now being made and other pending conditions, they considered it inexpedient to make a constitutional change at this time. The report was accepted and adopted and the Committee was discharged.

An invitation from the Plymouth Church of Des Moines, Iowa, was received and the following minute adopted:

The Congregational Church-Building Society has received the courteous invitation of Plymouth Church of Des Moines, Iowa, to hold a meeting there in connection with the National Council in October, 1904. It accepts the invitation with pleasure, and requests the Board of Trustees to arrange for the program of our meeting there.

The Society respectfully asks the Provisional Committee of the National Council to assign to it suitable time for a proper presentation of the various features of our work.

The minutes of the meeting were then read and approved, and after prayer by the Rev. Dr. James G. Roberts, the Society adjourned.

CHARLES H. RICHARDS, Recording Secretary.

Fifty-first Annual Report OF THE
BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH-BUILDING SOCIETY.

PRESENTED BY SECRETARY CHARLES H. RICHARDS.

In the year just closed the Congregational Church-Building Society completed the first half century of its life. With all the churches of our denomination, we have been rejoicing over the great and steadily-increasing blessing which the fifty years have brought. It has been Jubilee Year with us. A Festival of Thanksgiving was fitting when, after five decades of steady expansion and constantly-enlarging usefulness, we reviewed the tokens of the Divine favor toward us.

The beginnings in our Society were small. The income for the first few years was as insignificant as was the appreciation in the churches of the importance of the work. The contributions of the first year amounted to only $1,766.94, and those of the third year were less than one-third of those of the first year. It was four years after our Society was organized before the first appropriation was made from its funds to aid in building a church: this was for the First Congregational Church in Omaha, in 1857. Since that time the income and the work have steadily grown side by side, till in one fortunate year (1897) the income rose to $295,504.53. In that year we received over $153,000 from the estate of Mr. J. H. Stickney. For the last five years it has not once fallen below $200,000, and the urgent needs of the wide field to-day demand that it be pushed up as soon as possible to the $400,000, which is the mark set for it by a Committee of the National Council more than a decade ago.

This steadily-growing income since the beginning, together with the Albany and Forefathers' Funds, up to the close of 1903, has amounted to $4,619,744.85. With the money in our Grant and Church Loan Funds, we have helped to complete 3,491 houses of worship in fifty States and Territories.

During the last twenty-one years the Parsonage Loan Fund has also been developed, largely as the result of the enthusiastic efforts of Dr. Cobb, ably seconded in the beginning by Dr. William M. Taylor, and through this Fund we have helped to complete 876 parsonages. We have thus assisted in completing 4,367 church buildings. Considering the amounts raised by the churches themselves which we have aided, and the contributions of generous helpers paid directly to them, it is estimated that we have helped to secure at least $17,000,000 worth of church property, to aid in upbuilding the Kingdom of Christ in this country.

The work of the past year has been very large, as in all recent years, but it has not been large enough to meet the need of the churches. Hardly ever were there so many applications for our aid. From every part of the land have the requests for our help poured in upon us, and our embarrassment has been due to our inability to meet them as we have desired. We have no debt, but we are often in distress because we must decline or defer the really worthy cases of urgent need that are pressed upon us. Yet, though our three funds have been taxed to the limit to meet these appeals, we have done our best to help the weak and struggling churches, and to put into good condition for future work the promising churches in strategic centers.

During the year 1903 we had :

137	applications for grants.....	calling for	$150,283.44
67	" church loans.....	" "	153,200.00
67	" parsonage loans.....	" "	46,550.00

Total applications for aid, 271.....calling for $350,033.44

Forty-one of the above applications were from churches which asked both grant and loan to aid in building.

In response to these appeals the following appropriations were voted :

Grants voted to 106 churches.....	amounting to	$77,374.28
Church loans voted to 61 churches.....	" "	143,650.00
Parsonage loans voted to 52 churches.....	" "	30,625.00

Total appropriations voted, 219.....amounting to $251,649.28

The payment of these pledges is not made, of course, until the buildings are completed, and we pay only last bills. Some time elapses usually after our pledge is made before we are called upon for the money we have promised. Our treasury, therefore, has been drawn upon mainly for the payment of appropriations made in the last half of the preceding year, or the first half of 1903. During the year we paid appropriations as follows:

Grants paid to 109 churches.....	amounting to	$70,481 53
Church loans paid to 44 churches.....	"	98,875 00
Parsonage loans paid to 52 churches.....	"	36,450 00
Total grants and loans paid 205.....	amounting to	$205,806 53

Strenuous efforts have been made during the year to increase the income of the Society to meet the steadily enlarging need. An appeal was made to churches and individuals to join in celebrating our Jubilee Year by enlarged contributions. Each one of our three districts was urged to make a hearty effort to increase its gifts, that we might make a decided forward movement in our work. These appeals have borne some fruit, yet not enough to match the need. It is, perhaps, too early to know the full result, as we may hope that it will cause churches and individuals to modify their schedules of benevolence for this year, so that we may receive from them a larger offering, somewhat more in proportion to the magnitude and importance of our work. There is no question about the need. The experience of the last months of the year, in which every docket has had nearly or quite sixty applications, calling for about $60,000 each month, when we have been able to respond to only one-third of the cases, has proved to us that every one of our funds ought to be immediately increased.

During the past year 3,026 churches have remembered us with their gifts. They and the wide-awake Sunday-schools and Christian Endeavor Societies and Woman's Home Missionary Unions, and many generous-hearted individuals, have together sent to our treasury $90,093.19. Nearly as large a sum ($88,721.79) has come to us in the repaid instalments of our church and parsonage loans. The total income of the year amounts to $222,173.32. If the legacies had kept up to the mark of the preceding year we should have gone much beyond its total, inasmuch as our receipts from all sources, less the legacies, are this year more than $27,000 in advance of those of last year when its large income from bequests is subtracted. In common with the other benevolent societies we have had a serious shrinkage in this item, the amount we received from legacies last year being $56,223.62 less than in 1902. It is an indication of the health and vigor of our Congregational constituency in which we rejoice; but it throws upon the living a greater responsibility for increasing their gifts if our work is not to suffer.

The changes of the year have been such as to merit special mention. Two valued members of the Board of Trustees have retired from service by resignation. Mr. Jacob L. Halsey, who for many years has been one of our most active and honored members, whose wisdom and devotion have made his counsel and co-operation of great value, has been compelled to ask a release from the duties he has so faithfully performed on our Board on account of imperative and engrossing cares elsewhere; and the Rev. Thomas K. Noble, D.D., whose long experience as a pastor and keen appreciation of the needs of the churches gave special weight to his judgment in our councils, resigned on account of his removal from the vicinity of New York.

The resignation of the Rev. Dr. L. H. Cobb, for twenty-one years the honored and exceedingly successful Secretary of the Society, took effect at the close of 1903. His name appears as signing the Report of the Board of Trustees presented at the Annual Meeting one year ago. Universal regret was felt when his impaired health made it imperative that he be released from the cares and duties of this office to which he had given such distinction. The Board placed on record its deep appreciation of his invaluable services, and the whole country joined in the acclaim of honor to him and sympathetic sorrow at his retirement. It was provided, however, that he should still remain in active co-operation with the Society as Secretary Emeritus, and he still assists us in many ways.

At its meeting on January 21st, 1903, the Board elected as Secretary of the Society, in succession to Dr. Cobb, the Rev. Charles H. Richards, the pastor of the Central Congregational Church in Philadelphia. He entered upon the service of the Society March 1st. During the ten months of his service thus far, he has had an opportunity to learn how multifarious and often perplexing are the duties of such a position. Deeming it important to get into immediate and close touch with the field, both for the sake of giving him first hand knowledge of the aided churches, and to enlist a heartier interest in them for our work, he made two extended tours to the Southwest and the Northwest. He visited the State Associations of Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Indiana and Illinois on one journey; and Wyoming, North Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota on the other journey, giving addresses in many important cities in the Interior. Frequent shorter trips have enabled him to present our work in many of the Eastern towns and cities. During the autumn a brief New England campaign was held, in which more than a hundred churches in five important centers were addressed by our representatives. It was felt that the home of the Pilgrims, always generous when roused to a clear apprehension of need, would gladly increase its offerings for this work if it could be made to hear more clearly the appeal of the facts. We were everywhere most cordially received, and assured of the hearty co-operation of pastors and churches. We hope our anticipations will be realized. Altogether the Secretary has journeyed during his brief term of service thus far, more than 16,600 miles, and presented the work in nineteen States.

During the year a step toward federation of work has been taken by us in connection with the other five national Societies. A Joint Committee of Six has been formed—one Secretary of each Society representing it in the work—to have charge of the work among the young people of our Congregational churches, to develop their knowledge of and interest in the missionary work our denomination is doing, and to prepare the way for generous giving to it. The same Committee has also had charge of the Special Christmas Offering for missions, by which each family in our churches had an opportunity to make grateful recognition of God's greatest gift to mankind by an extra contribution to our joint missionary work, the same to be divided pro rata among our six Societies. This federation of work in these directions has awakened a good deal of interest, and it is hoped that it will produce good results.

We make glad and grateful recognition of the faithful and arduous labors of our Field Secretaries during the year. With a zeal born of vivid perception of the needs of the churches, and a wisdom born of long experience, they have toiled early and late to keep alive in their districts the sense of the privilege and responsibility of every Congregational church to this work; and they have interested many individuals who have become happy participants in this service of the Kingdom of Christ. Their unrelaxing vigilance has borne good fruit. We are also greatly indebted to the home missionary Superintendents and Secretaries, to our forty-three State Secretaries and to our two hundred and twenty-five Local Correspondents who have so generously aided us by their counsel and co-operation.

When shall we overtake the need, so that our churches may cease giving to this cause? Never! As population increases, churches must multiply. As churches multiply, the appeals for aid will come thick and fast from the needy ones. Just as long as we are responsible for our share of the work of evangelizing America, that thus we may evangelize the world, we must continue this effort to save the life of churches which would die without our help, and make them effective for the work. With full faith that the Spirit of God will move the hearts of men to eager response to the cry of the needy, and that soon every church in the land will be an annual contributor to help its little sister churches struggling for existence, we press forward with courage and confidence toward the future.

Twentieth Annual Report of Rev. C. H. Taintor.

FIELD SECRETARY FOR THE INTERIOR DISTRICT.

During nineteen years the Interior District has contributed from all sources $1,015,867.19 to the Congregational Church-Building Society; this amount should be multiplied by three. That is, for every dollar given to the building society, the community where the church or parsonage was built gave $3 00 on the field. A conservative estimate places the amount at $3,039,591.57.

While this is a fair showing, it is not what it should be to meet the just demands made on the Society. In these years of service, the greatest difficulty has been to make churches and individuals understand, not so much the needs, but the extent and magnitude of the Society's work, and the national demands for aid made upon it. The only way the Society can be kept from becoming entirely obscured is by personal and persistent field work, addresses before churches and associations, and solicitations from individuals. Whenever the results of the Society's work have been presented, it has awakened astonishment, interest and response. In 19 states and territories included in the Interior District there are 2,741 churches, and of this number 2,351 have received aid from the Building Society and 670 parsonages have been built.

Calling upon an interested friend of the Society I was informed I need not expect any further contributions, "for the Society was not making many appropriations so far as could be seen." I requested the information which led to this decision. "Well, the church at X— was built without aid from your Board." I replied, "The Society aided that church $4,000." "How about the church at Q—?" "The Society furnished $1,500 for that church." "What about the church at Z—?" "That also received $1,000 aid from the Society." And so it continued until the amount furnished by the Board reached up into the ten thousands. The friend expressed surprise and admiration and gave a check for $3,500 to the Society and has been a loyal contributor since. I am convinced that thousands of dollars would flow into our treasury if the churches had a comprehensive understanding of the great work the Church-Building Society is doing.

Six weeks of October and November were spent in the campaign of education in New England. Sabbath meetings were addressed in Boston, Providence, Worcester, Springfield and Hartford and four mid-week meetings each week, the speakers addressing over 100 New England churches. It was a surprise to find the impression that seemed to prevail in New England that the Society was not making any more grants, but only loans. This general impression has reduced the offerings from New England churches, and it is regretted, especially so when such opinions are not correct.

More than three-fourths of the Society's applications are for Grants, not Loans, and it has been so for Fifty Years, and, doubtless, will continue to be so for years to come. These grants are dependent upon contributions, and the New England campaign was certainly necessary in the interest of the Society and its work. It is confidently expected that the future will show most satisfactory financial results from this campaign.

The financial record of this field is now in the Treasurer's reports. The receipts embrace contributions from a large number of churches; some of these churches are small, and necessarily the contributions can not be large, but they are an expression of fellowship which is highly satisfactory.

Report of Mrs. C. H. Taintor.

ASSISTANT FIELD SECRETARY FOR THE INTERIOR DISTRICT.

The Field work for 1903 has been similar to that of the year previous. The service rendered consists of public addresses before churches, Sunday-schools, Christian Endeavor societies and missionary societies, besides conferences with many individuals interested in our work. Frequently I have made as many as five of these addresses each week for months. The story has met with a hearty welcome from many organizations of women, holding meetings in church parlors and private houses. They have resulted in a wider interest on the part of these ladies' societies in the work of the Church Building Society, especially parsonage building, which has been the theme of my addresses.

In addition to these public addresses, I have conducted a large correspondence, responding to requests for information, furnishing literature and writing personal letters. Untiring and unceasing activity has been the watchword of the year, and, as a result, there have come generous responses from individuals and ladies' societies. These responses have found their way into the treasury, and, in addition to these, quite a number of generous pledges have been made which will materialize in the near future.

Fifteenth Annual Report of Rev. George A. Hood.

FIELD SECRETARY FOR NEW ENGLAND.

The leading feature of 1903 in New England was the simultaneous meetings held as a Jubilee reception to the Congregational Church-Building Society and to its new Secretary, Rev. Dr. Richards, by the churches participating. The meetings began October 23d and closed on November 23d, except that the Boston Ministers' Meeting, Monday morning, November 23d, was given up to a report of them, with speaking by Rev. Charles H. Taintor and Mrs. Taintor, and Rev. George A. Hood. The five Sundays were spent with the churches of Boston, Providence, Worcester, Springfield, Hartford and the vicinity of these cities. As the different parts of New England hold their prayer meeting on Wednesday or Thursday or Friday, and sometimes on Tuesday evening, we were able to reach a good number of the strongest churches in the smaller cities through the four intervening weeks, planning carefully to save mileage.

We were fortunate in the speakers selected by Secretary Richards to assist him. Rev. and Mrs. Charles H. Taintor of Chicago, Field Secretaries of the Society for the Interior, coming from their wide field between the Rockies and the eastern Ohio line, spoke with an experience and authority which their hearers enjoyed. Pastors wrote thanking us for their visit, and President Capen of the American Board wrote of Mrs. Taintor, "I have never heard your work more tenderly or beautifully portrayed." Miss Jennie F. Blowers, a missionary of the American Missionary Association, recently returned from Porto Rico, was welcomed everywhere for her personality as well as for her clear picture of work in the island, where we aid in church building, and was called for repeatedly. Rev. Dwight M. Pratt, D.D., of Cincinnati, spoke strong and convincing words from his standpoint as a prominent pastor and a director of the Ohio Home Missionary Society. We could keep him but two Sundays and the intervening week, for his church wanted him at home. Then came Rev. Charles A. Jones, now the Home Missionary Superintendent of the New Jersey and Pennsylvania district, who also represented the missionary interest in the meetings in his popular and graceful style. Rev. and Mrs. Charles G. Fogg, of Outer Long Island, Maine, were detailed by the Maine Home Missionary Society to represent the needs of Maine while we were in and near Boston because they were trying to build a parsonage with our assistance, and Maine is asking us for large and increasing aid. They were welcomed by some of the largest churches.

Thus eight speakers addressed the Boston churches; six continued through the five Sundays. Out of a possible 120 churches, which might have been reached if the prayer meeting nights had been rightly distributed, 108 of the most prominent churches were visited. There was a rising interest all through the series, and, before the meetings were half through, we had received extra gifts sufficient to meet the expenses of the whole series. The attention of the churches throughout New England seemed to be attracted, and a new and higher place opened for the Building Society in the beneficence of the churches and individuals.

I wish here to express the gratitude of the Congregational Church-Building Society to the churches and pastors who were included in this series of meetings, and to others who offered their hospitality, for the graceful courtesy of their welcome to the Society as represented by the visiting speakers; they all reported most appreciative welcome on the part of pastors and people. The press notices were also a feature for which to rejoice and be grateful; in almost every city and town the papers gave extended and correct reports of the meetings, and thus showed their enterprise in helping good things and their judgment as to what news is important.

Other enlarged and improved methods of working this New England department have been suggested by the Secretary, which are expected to increase the amount given in New England. Indeed, I have had more expressions of interest since those meetings than during any like period in the fifteen years I have spent in New England.

The routine work of the year has involved visiting 66 churches, 11 County Conferences, the National Woman's Home Missionary Union at Providence, one Home Missionary Institute, and one Missionary Training Institute, with a total of 91 Church-Building Society addresses; three on other subjects, and three sermons. I have had 101 interviews with persons in the interest of the Society. This work has required 12,051 miles of travel.

Ninth Annual Report of Rev. H. H. Wikoff.

FIELD SECRETARY FOR THE PACIFIC DISTRICT.

Twelve months of honest service in a cause so vitally essential as ours to the churches could scarcely be without difficulty, trial, disappointment. Generally speaking, however, such experiences have not predominated; rather those which are bright, cheering, encouraging. Churches, pastors, friends have given a cordial welcome, and the outcome has been what might reasonably be expected from a district so much of which is virgin soil. Financial returns do not all come to this office, some going directly to New York, but those entered upon our books exceed those of any previous year, the increase over 1902 being somewhat more than thirty-five per cent.

Extensive travels have revealed new church edifices, wisely located; some, by no means old, requiring enlargement in order to meet increasing needs, while the great majority of those standing for several decades prove that wise men reared them at strategic centres, and faithful followers of the Master now worshipping therein are seeking to make them the birthplaces of many into the Kingdom and recruiting stations where young men and women may enlist in the world-wide work of redeeming humanity. Occasionally we have found one of these sanctuaries no longer needed because of an entire change in the surrounding population, and we have disposed of the same. Such disposition is exceptional, a fact worthy of emphasis if any be disposed to be over-critical. At the same time, if the plant has served its day, we rejoice in turning the property into money, thereby increasing the resources of the Board so greatly taxed to meet pressing needs.

Cheer has come to us, also, from the disposition on the part of one church and another to return its grant, prompted by the spirit of independence and also of helpfulness. This seems particularly happy. Many can not do this, and surely no pressure would to this end be brought upon such. Yet when a church has grown strong in numbers, financial strength and spiritual power, what more attractive benevolent effort than, on its Church Building Sunday, to rally the forces and make the offering equal the amount furnished for the edifice in the days of the church's weakness. If others would follow the several examples in the Pacific District, and perhaps elsewhere also, a speedy and happy solution would come to the problem so often presented to the Board: "How shall we help the fifty or more churches seeking aid with only money sufficient for twenty?"

Rejoicing, too, has been ours, as we have witnessed the readiness of members and friends of the local churches to meet the obligations to the Board. This is not unusual, but one case was so happy that mention of it may well be made. It was that of A—. Hesitating to present the matter to the people, the officers of the congregation had secured an extension of time from the Board in New York. Ignorant of this, your representative presented himself on the scene of action, or rather of inaction. An interview with the pastor and his wife, a charming couple, encouraged him. A few minutes' talk with the Trustees strengthened his courage, also that of the pastor. Together the latter and Field Secretary started forth. Men and women were interviewed. Knowing what to expect, they came to church the next Sunday, and at the close of the evening service most of the debt was subscribed, the payments following. A brother beloved says: "Trust the people; they will usually do what is right." My experience confirms this. Sometimes pastors are fearful, and hesitate to lay additional burdens upon the rank and file of their membership, but the latter according to their ability are ready, and I am glad to bear this testimony to their loyalty.

But what of the outlook? Depressing indeed it would be, were there not more work in sight. But not such is the vision. From Puget Sound to San Diego, from the Rockies to the sea, there is development on all lines. Macedonian cries are heard on many sides. Unmistakably some of them are for Congregationalists, and we cannot afford to turn a deaf ear. To accept the call means consecrated men and consecrated means. Men there are. Financial resources, too, are ours. Will the latter be forthcoming as the former enlist for service? We believe they will.

This growing section may do more than ever, but it can not do all. As formerly, so now, one will join with another, the many with the few, the weak with the strong, the rich with the poor, and wherever the developing Kingdom, as committed to the children of the Pilgrims, demands a new sanctuary, resources will be at hand, and the House of Jehovah stand in city, in town, in hamlet and on the plain, as the rallying centre for those committed to the bringing in of that day when every knee shall bow and every tongue confess that "Christ is Lord to the glory of God the Father."

We can not close without a word expressive of the great pleasure found in the association with our new Secretary, Rev. Charles H. Richards, D.D. Though not moving yet in our midst, correspondence has revealed such a wise and winning policy, together with a spirit so kind and genial, that co-operation has been a delight. Friends in the Pacific District join with those of the Mississippi Valley and of the Atlantic Coast, in extending cordial greetings with the assurance that a hearty welcome awaits him whenever he may find it possible to extend his journeys to this region. May it be soon!

Don't!

If our readers dislike this word as much as we do, we shall not be surprised if they turn and say "Don't!" Just this once, please, and next time we shall leave off the last two letters.

We wish to make a few remarks about church building. They have all been made several times before. But, O, that forgettery!

When about to build a new church—

1. Don't accept, even as a gift, a lot on a back street hard to find and inaccessible.
2. Don't accept a lot in a swamp. A church disturbs the mosquitoes that have pre-empted the swamp.
3. Don't take an undesirable lot to favor some real estate speculator, even if offered at a great bargain.
4. Don't begin to build till you have every dollar in hand, or in a reliable promise, that will be required to build, finish and furnish the house.
5. Don't guess at the cost. Have an expert make a careful estimate on accepted "plans and specifications."
6. Don't put a man on the "Building Committee" who knows nothing about building.
7. Don't let your contractor overrun estimates.
8. Don't consent to any change of plans involving extra expense, unless those wishing the change will hand the Treasurer the actual cost of the proposed change.

THE RECORD OF A HALF-CENTURY.

By L. H. COBB, DD., SECRETARY EMERITUS.

Our fiftieth milestone is now some months behind us. We are on our way to the Centennial in 1953. Something about the men who have led the work; the conditions, East and West, under which the work was begun and has continued; the pressure that growth is now daily bringing to bear on us, make a review seem appropriate.

Our readers will be glad to take a glance at the faces of the men who have had charge at headquarters and on the field. The list is not long.

We have had a distinguished group of Presidents. The men who have filled this office during the half-century just closed have been Rev. Leonard Bacon, D.D., Rev. William Ives Budington, D.D., Rev. Richard Salter Storrs, D.D., Mr. Alfred S. Barnes, Rev. Edwin B. Webb, D.D., Rev. William M. Taylor, D.D., Rev. Henry A. Stimson, D.D., and Dr. Lucien C. Warner. They have been among the recognized leaders in the denomination, and in many ways have rendered eminent service in forwarding the kingdom of God. They have had a strong conviction that a very important factor in the advancement of that kingdom was the aid rendered to young and struggling churches to enable them to complete their houses of worship and the homes of their pastors.

The Board of Trustees, especially in later years, has sought to make the executive offices as permanent as possible. There have been seven Secretaries and four Treasurers.

The Secretaries have been Rev. Timothy Atkinson, Rev. Isaac P. Langworthy, D.D., Rev. Ray Palmer, D.D., Rev. Christopher Cushing, D.D., Rev. William B. Brown, D.D., Rev. L. H. Cobb, D.D., and Rev. Charles H. Richards, D.D. The second Treasurer, Norman A. Calkins, LL.D., and the last Secretary before the present, L. H. Cobb, D.D., held their offices, respectively, twenty-six and twenty-one years. The Secretaries have averaged ten years each, and the Treasurers a little more than twelve years. Other things being equal, this plan has great advantages. A new man every year or two would have to spend a large share of his time learning the field and the work. Instead of attempting a just and fair characterization of each of the men on the list, we prefer to let the record of each man tell the story. The annual receipts, the number of churches aided, and the amounts appropriated will furnish fair criteria for judging of the value and progress of the work.

The Treasurers have been Mr. Israel Minor, Norman A. Calkins, LL.D., Mr. H. O. Pinneo and Mr. Charles E. Hope.

MR. CHARLES E. HOPE.

Of the Treasurers, the least that can be said is that not a dollar has been lost by any fault of theirs. They have guarded the treasury with great care.

Dr. Calkins, during most of his long term of service, was Superintendent of Schools in the City of New York. During this portion of his term of service he would accept no salary from the Society. He was a member of the Board of Trustees and Chairman of the Finance Committee. The Society and the churches owe him a great debt. He was fruitful in suggestions that greatly aided the Secretaries in their work.

The same has been true of the other Treasurers to a great extent. Their fidelity, ability and devotion have contributed much to the success of the great and growing work. They have been experts in business. Latterly they have done a large share of the work of collecting loans and contributions from the aided churches, securing the payment of legacies, and looking after the insurance policies given the Society by the aided churches. With the aid of expert legal counsel, they have efficiently protected the money which has gone out in grants and loans by a system of mortgages and insurance policies, so that very little of it is ever lost.

Beginnings. The Congregational Church-Building Society was born in an emergency. The wild West was just beginning to open. Christian work had begun in spots. Settlers' cabins were rude. Everything was crude except the recently-imported New England faith; that was as old as the New Testament, yet as fresh and befitting as if just formulated and put in practice. The genuine Christian New Englander was not going West to lapse into heathenism. He must organize himself at once into a section of the old home church he had left in the East. He had been brought up to know and love Congregationalism. He could be a first-class Presbyterian if necessary; but thousands of the best New Englanders who went West fifty years ago carried their piety and their polity with them.

Ohio, then a long way west, began Congregational work at Marietta in 1796; Pennsylvania at Ebensburg in 1797. These two states seemed to have formed a sort of Congregational break-water for thirty-five years. We find no record of a Congregational church in the North-west now in existence till Michigan began Congregational work in Pontiac, and Illinois at Princeton in 1831. Indiana ran up a Congregational flag at Terre Haute in 1834; Wisconsin at Beloit in 1838; Iowa at Burlington and Denmark in 1838; Minnesota at Minneapolis (St. Anthony) in 1851, and Missouri at St. Louis (First) in 1852.

The battle of our western wilds was fairly on. New settlements were multiplying. Now was the nick of time with every one of them. The King's business was urgent and required haste. It must organize and build or be left hopeless in the rear in the rushing march of western emigration.

Had that emigration been spiritually and ecclesiastically homogenous, as New England was at the outset, church organization and church housing could readily have led the van and preempted the new states for Christ. But the division of the Lord's army was not wholly an evil. Beyond a question, more has been done by the many than would have been done by a church of any one kind, but it has been, and still is, costly.

Fellowship Imperative. With farms to open, crops to wait for, houses to furnish, the essential machinery of civilized society to construct and set running, there was a real and inevitable emergency on every line of home missionary work.

Churches they must have. Men of God must be sent to man them. The motherly East must not only send the missionary, but in part, at least, feed, clothe and house him. For a time this missionary could live, and his church could worship in a sod hut or log shanty. Permanent commanding influence could never be gained on that plan. Churches must be decently housed. Rarely could a community of believers take care of themselves.

Most of the new settlements must have the good fellowship of the older portions of the country. They must ask aid. They did ask it. They received it. It was put to good use. Eastern churches have multiplied themselves, some thirty, some sixty, some a hundred-fold, in their gifts of members and money to the Western work.

Seed and Growth. The Congregational mustard seed planted in Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, St. Louis, and farther on, has grown into goodly trees. Hosts of birds of passage have found gracious shelter among their branches. Their children and their charities have literally gone to the ends of the earth. While covering the West, New England was girdling the globe, thus illustrating the seemingly self-contradictory truth: There is that giveth and yet increaseth. No figures can fully set forth the debt the West owes—the world owes—to dear old New England.

In 1851 children of Eastern parentage were marvelously multiplying. They were doing their share toward filling the land. Towns were lining the waterways and dotting the prairies. Everything, even the day of judgment, seemed to be coming at once. Letters poured into the East for help to meet pressing spiritual needs. The platforms of May anniversaries rang with appeals for men and money to evangelize the West. If sent, they and their work must be housed.

Promiscuous Appeals. Promiscuous appeals came from all along the western picket line. Every point was "strategic"; "no place in the whole land so important as this."

It would have been amusing, had it not been so confusing. Most applicants had their Eastern friends. Others took as a text, "Come over and help us;" and, like the good bishop's sermon, went everywhere preaching the Word. For a time the East was glad. Presently it came near going mad, i. e., distracted, calls came so thick. There was no system either at the eastern or western end of the line. The bulk of wants was nowhere near met.

A TEMPORARY HOME.

Wise men called a convention at Albany, N. Y. It was held October 5-8, 1852. One of the topics discussed was, "The Building of Church Edifices at the West." The needs as then and there set forth were urgent, and took on the proportions of a "plan for raising $50,000 for aiding in the erection of church edifices at the West."

SOD CHURCH, SOUTH DAKOTA.

The plan was as wise as it was bold. It was an act of self-defence as well as genuine, benevolent good fellowship. Like any such move led off by acknowledged leaders among us, and followed by hearty discussion in the religious press, it succeeded. The proposed sum went up to $62,041, and was promptly put into 232 houses of worship in Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Wisconsin.

This move systematized giving to aid in church building. It economized expenditure. It enlisted sympathy. It paved the way for the permanent organization on May 11, 1853, of the American Congregational Union, now the Congregational Church-Building Society. Justice and gratitude require that mention be made of the generous gift of $10,000 by the late Henry C. Bowen, for many years proprietor of The Independent, as soon as the proposal was made to form a Church-Building Society. Our readers will be glad to take a look at his face.

The birth of this Society illustrates a fact if not a principle in such movements. The whole denomination had been called on for a special gift to western church building. They responded splendidly. The conception seems hardly to have taken root in more than a score or two of the best minds of the time that only a beginning had been made. Fifty thousand dollars was a large sum. Many thought it must well-nigh finish the work. What else can be inferred from the fact that the Union's receipts for the first year were $1,766; the second year, $1,796; the third year, $560.

Up and down its receipts go till 1865-66, when they reached $123,216. The very next year they fell to $32,530 and the next to $30,101; 1878-9 touched bottom at $23,509. In 1882 the churches waked up to the magnificent possibilities of this work, and there was a large increase in the gifts to it. Only once since 1882 have receipts gone below $100,000, and that after special appeals for the $25,000 needed for a parsonage loan fund. Every friend of the Society, inasmuch as there are to be no more spasms, may devoutly hope there will No More Spasms. be no more such serious backsets. The calls for aid bear a close resemblance to the regularity of the sunrise. Receipts are about as regular in recurrence but by no means uniform in the daily totals. This would be almost certainly secured by two things: 1. A clear presentation of the work in its latest phases to every one of our churches; to be followed, 2. By an offering from every one of our resident members. So long as several regularly contribute from $1,000 to $3,000 a year; others $500 or more, many $100 to $500, and hundreds give from $5 to $10, it is easy to see how, if all participated in giving as generously, the work could be brought fully and promptly up to meet demands, instead of lacking at least one half of what could be economically expended in planting a church at every considerable center of population in our great land.

PLYMOUTH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, SOUTH ENID, OKLA.

Once there was an inflexible rule not to vote more than $500 to aid any church in building a house of worship. The Disbursing Committee of the Albany Fund voted that "no sum exceeding $300 shall be given for the erection of any one house of worship." The days of such limitations passed long ago. Amazing confidence in the money-raising power of the Society is shown in the amounts asked. In one year thirty-nine churches asked $1,000 or more, twenty asked $1,500 or more, fifteen asked $2,000 or more, fourteen asked $2,500 or more, ten asked $3,000 or more, five asked $3,500 or more, and three asked $4,000, $5,000, $8,000 each, and a little earlier two asked $8,750 each. The average amount asked is $717.

"Friends of the work must plainly see that such calls must be "cut," or declined, unless the treasury is very generously replenished.

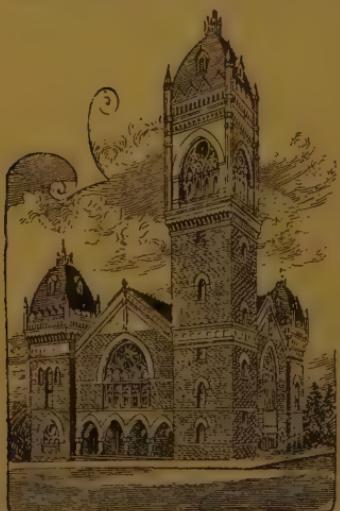

A large proportion of the contributions to our treasury comes from Churches, Sunday-schools, Christian Endeavor Societies and Women's Societies. But large sums have often come from annuitants, who receive interest on their gifts during life; and many others have left bequests, so that their posthumous power may work on for years after their death in advancing the Kingdom of God.

Within the past twenty years there have been nearly 200 such legacies. The largest was that of Mr. Joseph Henry Stickney, of

1ST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH,
PORTLAND, ORE.

Baltimore, a loyal and great-hearted son of New England, who made this Society his residuary legatee, which resulted in putting about $300,000 into this great work of beneficence. In accordance with his wish this has been chiefly used in aiding churches in the cities and large towns, where larger amounts can be carried as loans. It has all been distributed, and is at work in many fields. We must have other large bequests if we are to repeat similar aid.

There is something like a tidal wave in all forms of architecture. Plain houses, plain church buildings—all kinds of plain buildings are going out of fashion; some of them ought to. Buildings are a sign of civilization. The mud hut of New

JOSEPH HENRY STICKNEY.

Mexico is as absolute an index as the mansion on Michigan Avenue. An exchange of occupants would be worth going miles to see. Neither could possibly be "at home." The Society has had several fine opportunities to substitute a neatly-drawn plan of a tasteful church for what would have been a respectable barn if it had been built.

Published Plans. Our published plans aim at a reasonably high standard of taste, convenience and comfort in the places it offers to help build for the worship of the Most High. But there is a limit in both directions. As we read the wishes of donors, we are to encourage the erection of good buildings—no others. The beauty of the sanctuary is not to be underestimated nor neglected. Yet sometimes cultured taste, such as nearly every frontier church can furnish specimens of, may over-emphasize externals. The late Charles H. Spurgeon's severely plain Tabernacle in London, Dr. White's plain church in Edinboro', Dr. Charles R. Brown's fairly good church building in Oakland, Cal., President Finney's (now Dr. Bradshaw's) plain structure at Oberlin, Ohio, and hundreds of others, prove beyond all question that brains and heart in the pulpit turn men's thoughts away from externals, and make them utterly forget that they are not in elegantly-constructed and highly-ornamented cathedrals. Not destructive economy but constructive fitness is the golden standard. The Society rejoices to render imperatively needed aid to all applicants engaged in that style of church building.

This review would be incomplete were no mention made of our parsonage work. The first suggestion of this feature of the work was made by Dr. R. S. Storrs, Jr., at the meeting when the Society was organized in 1853. Yet, though this prophetic hint was then given in the clause, "building Parsonages meeting-houses and parsonages," which expressed in part the object of the Congregational Union, hardly anything was done in this direction for nearly thirty years. Only two parsonages were built by aid of this Society before 1882.

The new Secretary, who entered upon his office that year, had been a Home Missionary Superintendent and Secretary, and for many years had seen the overwhelming need of helping to provide homes for pastors, as well as for churches. Appeals for funds to help build parsonages were at once sent out. Twelve parsonages were built in that first year, and fifty-six applications were left over for the next year. The spirit of Dr.

William M. Taylor caught fire from the project, and not only did his own Broadway Tabernacle contribute $5,000 to the fund, but he joined the Secretary in a campaign, east and west, to secure special gifts for this cause, with the result that by the end of the third year nearly $37,000 had been contributed to the Parsonage Loan Fund. This has been steadily increased since that time, loans, and as all the repaid instalments from parsonage loans are returned to this Fund, more than twice the amount of the direct gifts to the Fund have been returned to it from the aided churches, so that the total amount available for this part of the work in the twenty-one years since we have been systematically engaged in it, has been over $390,450. With this aid more than 875 homes for ministers have been secured, and one-seventh of all our Congregational pastors are sheltered by the roofs we have provided. The parsonage adds greatly to the stability and success of a church. It adds something to the pastor's salary. Often the pastor could find no suitable place in which to live until we had helped to build for him a home.

No better investments have been made by the Society than these sums loaned upon parsonages. They have enabled us often to take the minister's family out of a sod-house, or a rude shack, or an unfit and unseemly structure, and place it in a neat, comely, and comfortable home. This good work must go on till every church has its house of worship, and every pastor has a good home.

Amount paid to 131 churches..	$169,679 88

PAID TO PARSONAGES.

List of appropriations paid as loans to aid in building parsonages for Congregational Churches. These loans are secured by a first mortgage on the property, and are paid to the Society in installments; the annual sums so paid vary according to the amount of the loan. When the payments thus made are equal to the amount of the mortgage, the obligation of the church is to be cancelled, and the parsonage becomes the property of the church free from all debts.

ROLLING PARTITIONS

For dividing Church and School Buildings. Sound-proof and air-tight. In various kinds of wood. Made also with Blackboard Surface. They are a marvelous convenience, easily operated, very durable, and do not get out of order. Also, made to roll vertically. Over 4,000 Churches and many Public School Buildings are using them.

OUTSIDE VENETIAN BLINDS

Combining blind and awning. Applied to any window. Light and elegant, yet so strong that storms cannot harm them. Bronze Metal Tapes. Last for years. Pull up out of sight. Also Inside Venetian and Rolling Steel Shutters.

Mention CHURCH-BUILDING QUARTERLY for Free Pamphlet.
